NEW QUESTION: 2

You work as an Office Assistant for Company Inc. You create a presentation. The presentation comprises various objects. You add an image from a file in the presentation. Now, you want to remove the unwanted portions of the image to highlight the subject of the image or to remove the distracting detail, as shown in the following image:

You have clicked the Format tab of the Picture Tools. Mark the option/button in the following image to accomplish the task.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

The background removal is a new feature in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and Outlook. It is used to remove the unwanted portions of an image. It can also be used to mark the areas to keep or remove from the image. A user can remove a background from a picture to accent or highlight the subject of the picture, or to remove the distracting detail. This feature does not just select color ranges or trim to a border that a user draws. Take the following steps to use the background removal feature:

1. Click the picture that a user wants to remove the background from.
2. Under Picture Tools, click the Format tab. In the Adjust group, click the Background Removal option.
3. Click one of the handles on the marquee lines and then drag the line, so that it contains the portion of the picture that a user wants to keep and excludes most of the areas a user wants to remove.

If necessary, do one or both of the following:

- o To indicate which parts of the picture a user do not wants automatically removed, click the Mark Areas to Keep option.
  - o To indicate which parts of the picture a user do wants removed in addition to those automatically marked, click the Mark Areas to Remove option.
4. Click the Keep Changes option in the Close group.

Note: To cancel the automatic background removal, click the Discard All Changes option in the Close group.
