NEW QUESTION: 1

A virtual machine (VM) is running in a virtual network (VNet) that is connected to a virtual private network (VPN) client. The VPN client is configured to use a static IP address. The VM is configured to use a dynamic IP address. The VM is unable to connect to the Internet. What should you do to resolve this issue?

A. Configure the VM to use a static IP address.

B. Configure the VNet to use a static IP address.

C. Configure the VPN client to use a dynamic IP address.

D. Configure the VNet to use a dynamic IP address.

Answer: A, B

Explanation:

Peer the VPCs and configure DHCP option sets. A VPN is not necessary. You cannot create a Route 53 record to forward DNS requests.

NEW QUESTION: 2

Your company deploys an Azure App Service Web App. During testing the application fails under load. The application cannot handle more than 100 concurrent user sessions. You enable the Always On feature. You also configure auto-scaling to increase counts from two to 10 based on HTTP queue length. You need to improve the performance of the application. Which solution should you use for each application scenario? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area. NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: Content Delivery Network

A content delivery network (CDN) is a distributed network of servers that can efficiently deliver web content to users. CDNs store cached content on edge servers in point-of-presence (POP) locations that are close to end users, to minimize latency. Azure Content Delivery Network (CDN) offers developers a global solution for rapidly delivering high-bandwidth content to users by caching their content at strategically placed physical nodes across the world. Azure CDN can also accelerate dynamic content, which cannot be cached, by leveraging various network optimizations using CDN POPs. For example, route optimization to bypass Border Gateway Protocol (BGP).

Box 2: Azure Redis Cache

Azure Cache for Redis is based on the popular software Redis. It is typically used as a cache to improve the performance and scalability of systems that rely heavily on backend data-stores. Performance is improved by temporarily copying frequently accessed data to fast storage located close to the application. With Azure Cache for Redis, this fast storage is located in-memory with Azure Cache for Redis instead of being loaded from disk by a database.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Your network contains a server that runs Windows Server 2008 R2 named Server1.

You install a new application on Server1. After the installation, you discover that Server1 frequently becomes unavailable.

You need to identify whether the issues on Server1 coincide with the installation of the application.

What should you do?

- A. From the command prompt, run the Program Compatibility Wizard.
- B. From the System Configuration utility, select Diagnostic startup.
- C. From Administrative Tools, run Windows Memory Diagnostic.
- D. From Reliability Monitor, review the reliability details.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Reliability Monitor shows you your system stability history at a glance and lets you see details on a day-by-day basis about events that impact reliability. (MY NOTE: This will basically let us see what kind of errors and events are associated with system lockups, so we can see what was happening around the time the application was installed)

WRONG ANSWERS

...the Program Compatibility Wizard, which can be used to make setting adjustments for an incompatible application and run the application successfully. (MY NOTE: This lets us try to run applications with different settings, in hopes that they might run on a newer version of Windows, when they otherwise fail. The application here is running fine at first, but merely becomes unreliable over time.)

Diagnostic startup. Starts Windows with basic services and drivers only. This mode can help rule out basic Windows files as the problem. Reference:

If Windows detects possible problems with your computer's memory, it will prompt you to run the Memory Diagnostics Tool. Reference:

NEW QUESTION: 4

You have an Azure subscription named Subscription1. Subscription1 contains the resources in the following table.

VNet1 is in RG1. VNet2 is in RG2. There is no connectivity between VNet1 and Vnet2.

An administrator named Admin1 creates an Azure virtual machine named VM1 in RG1. VM1 uses a disk named Disk1 and connects to VNet1. Admin1 then installs a custom application in VM1.

You need to move the custom application to Vnet2. The solution must minimize administrative effort.

Which two actions should you perform? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

You can move a VM and its associated resources to another resource group using the portal.
