NEW QUESTION: 1

A customer wants to migrate from IBM DS5300 to an IBM FlashSystem V9000 and wants to determine reductions in physical storage requirements.

Which tool should the customer use?

- A. Capacity Magic
- B. IBM Storage Tier Advisor Tool
- C. IBM Comprestimator Utility
- D. Storage Consolidation Evaluation Tool hosted by Alinean

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Capacity Magic calculates the effective storage capacity of your current and future IBM Disk Subsystems through an easy-to-use graphical dialog. This tool is available to IBM

Business Partners.

The IBM tool Capacity Magic can be used to verify capacity and space utilization plans.

Incorrect Answers:

A: The Comprestimator utility uses advanced mathematical and statistical algorithms to perform the sampling and analysis process in a very short and efficient way. The utility also displays its accuracy level by showing the maximum error range of the results achieved based on the formulas it uses. The utility runs on a host that has access to the devices that will be analyzed, and performs only read operations so it has no effect whatsoever on the data stored on the device.

C: The IBM Storage Tier Advisor Tool predicts whether the addition of Solid State Drive (SSD), Enterprise Drive and Nearline Drive capacity in conjunction with the Easy Tier function.

D: The IBM Systems Consolidation Evaluation Tool, from Alinean, Inc., can help you obtain an independent view of potential savings. In a matter of minutes you can see high level, quantifiable results for potential total cost of ownership and critical financial savings.

NEW QUESTION: 2

A storage administrator added a storage system using the Hitachi Device Manager GUI interface. Where should the administrator go to verify the status of the task?

Response:

- A. the Data Collection tab
- B. the Global Monitoring bar on the bottom line of the GUI
- C. the View Tasks drop down menu
- D. the Tasks & Alerts tab

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3

HOTSPOT

Background

You manage a Microsoft SQL Server environment that includes the following databases: DB1, DB2, Reporting.

The environment also includes SQL Reporting Services (SSRS) and SQL Server Analysis Services (SSAS). All SSRS and SSAS servers use named instances. You configure a firewall rule for SSAS.

Databases

Database Name:

DB1

Notes:

This database was migrated from SQL Server 2012 to SQL Server

2016. Thousands of records are inserted into DB1 or updated each second. Inserts are made by many different external applications that your company's developers do not control. You observe that transaction log write latency is a bottleneck in performance. Because of the transient nature of all the data in this database, the business can tolerate some data loss in the event of a server shutdown.

Database Name:

DB2

Notes:

This database was migrated from SQL Server 2012 to SQL Server 2016. Thousands of records are updated or inserted per second. You observe that the WRITELOG wait type is the highest aggregated wait type. Most writes must have no tolerance for data loss in the event of a server shutdown. The business has identified certain write queries where data loss is tolerable in the event of a server shutdown.

Database Name:

Reporting

Notes:

You create a SQL Server-authenticated login named BIAppUser on the SQL Server instance to support users of the Reporting database. The BIAppUser login is not a member of the sysadmin role.

You plan to configure performance-monitoring alerts for this instance by using SQL Agent Alerts.

You need to set up the service accounts that the database engine and SQL Server Agent services will use.

How should you design the solution? To answer, select the appropriate configuration options in the answer area.

Hot Area:

Answer :

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Box 1: Domain Account

The service startup account defines the Microsoft Windows account in which SQL Server Agent runs and its network permissions. SQL Server Agent runs as a specified user account. You select an account for the SQL Server Agent service by using SQL Server Configuration Manager, where you can choose from the following options:

* Built-in account. You can choose from a list of the following built-in Windows service accounts: Local System account.

* This account. Lets you specify the Windows domain account in which the SQL Server Agent service runs.

Box 2: Domain users

Microsoft recommends choosing a Windows user account that is not a member of the Windows Administrators group.

Box 3: Managed Service Accounts

When resources external to the SQL Server computer are needed,

Microsoft recommends using a Managed Service Account (MSA), configured with the minimum privileges necessary.

Note: A Managed Service Account (MSA) can run services on a computer in a secure and easy to maintain manner, while maintaining the capability to connect to network resources as a specific user principal.
