You want to deploy Oracle Solaris 11 with the Automated Installer (AI). You need to make sure that your server and network meet the requirements for using AI. Identify two requirements for using AI.

- A. You can create only one manifest per install service. If you need more than one manifest, you should create multiple install services.
- B. The minimum requirement to operate as an AI install server is 1 GB of memory.
- C. You should set up DHCP. The DHCP server and AI install server can be the same machine or two different machines.
- D. If two client machines have different architectures and need to be installed with the same version of the Oracle Solaris 11 OS, then you should create two AI manifests and a single install service.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

A: An automated installation of a client over the network consists of the following high-level steps:

Step 1. The client system boots over the network and gets its network configuration and the location of the install server from the DHCP server.

Step 2: The install server provides a boot image to the client.
Etc.

D: If two client machines need to be installed with the same version of the Oracle Solaris 11 OS but need to be installed differently in other ways, then create two AI manifests for the AI install service. The different AI manifests can specify different packages to install or a different slice as the install target, for example.
