NEW QUESTION: 2

- A. Set-MsolDomainAuthentication -DomainName contoso.com
- B. Convert-MsolDomainToFederated -DomainName contoso.com
- C. Convert-MsolDomainToStandard -DomainName contoso.com
- D. Convert-MsolFederatedUser

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Convert-MSOLDomainToFederated cmdlet converts the specified domain from standard authentication to single sign-on (also known as identity federation), including configuring the relying party trust settings between the Active Directory Federation Services (AD FS) server and the Microsoft Online Services. As part of converting a domain from standard authentication to single sign-on, each user must also be converted. This conversion happens automatically the next time a user signs in; no action is required by the administrator.

Incorrect:

Not B: This is the opposite to what is required. The Convert-MsolDomainToStandard cmdlet converts the specified domain from single sign-on (also known as identity federation) to standard authentication. This process also removes the relying party trust settings in the AD FS server and online service. After the conversion, this cmdlet will convert all existing users from single sign-on to standard authentication.

Not C: The Convert-MsolFederatedUser cmdlet is used to update a user in a domain that was recently converted from single sign-on (also known as identity federation) to standard authentication type. A new password must be provided for the user.

Not D: The Set-MsolDomainAuthentication cmdlet is used to change the domain authentication between standard identity and single-sign on. This cmdlet will only update the settings in Microsoft Online Services; typically the Convert-MsolDomainToStandard or Convert-MsolDomainToFederated should be used instead.
