NEW QUESTION: 2

Identify the correct description of an IPS image.

- A. An ISO image of the Solaris media DVD
- B. A location where packages can be installed, for example, your Solaris instance
- C. A depot location or source where Solaris packages can be installed from
- D. An IPS repository

Answer: B

Explanation:

An image is a location where packages can be installed.

An image can be one of three types:

- * Full images are capable of providing a complete system.
- * Partial images are linked to a full image (the parent image), but do not provide a complete system on their own.
- * User images contain only relocatable packages.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Amazon Elastic Load Balancing (ELB) is a managed service that automatically distributes incoming traffic across multiple Amazon EC2 instances. ELB is designed to be highly available and scalable. It can be used to load balance traffic across multiple EC2 instances in a single Availability Zone or across multiple Availability Zones. ELB is a managed service, so you don't need to manage any infrastructure. You just need to create an ELB instance and add your EC2 instances to it. ELB is a managed service, so you don't need to manage any infrastructure. You just need to create an ELB instance and add your EC2 instances to it.
