NEW QUESTION: 1
Which two statements about NPTv6 are true? (Choose two.)
A. It is a one-way stateful translation for the IPv6 address.
B. The translation is invisible to applications that hard code IP information within the application logic.
C. It is a two-way stateless translation for the network prefix.
D. Translation is 1:1 at the network layer.
Answer: C,D Explanation:
This document describes a stateless, transport-agnostic IPv6-to-IPv6 Network Prefix Translation (NPTv6) function that provides the address-independence benefit associated with IPv4-to-IPv4 NAT (NAPT44) and provides a 1:1 relationship between addresses in the "inside" and "outside" prefixes, preserving end-to-end reachability at the network layer NPTv6 Translation is stateless, so a "reset" or brief outage of an NPTv6 Translator does not break connections that traverse the translation function, and if multiple NPTv6 Translators exist between the same two networks, the load can shift or be dynamically load shared among them. NPTv6 is defined to include a two-way, checksum-neutral, algorithmic translation function, and nothing else.

NEW QUESTION: 2
A service providerrequests more details about the recent Inter-AS MPLS VPN Option B configuration that was recently deployed. Consider this configuration:
router bgp 3717
address-family vpnv4 unicast retain route-target all commit
Which option describes why this particular command is needed?
A. The ASBRcan have many working customer VRFs, so this configuration ensures the coexistence of all the route-target extended communities that belong to the all ASBR-terminated customer VRFs.
B. In the Inter-AS Option B design, no local VRF is maintained on the ASBR routers,so the default behavior of the operating system is to deny any route-target extended community that is encoded in the incoming iBGP updates. This configuration permits VPNv4 communication by accepting the iBGP updates even if no route targets are configured locally.
C. When implementing the Inter-AS Option B MPLS VPN solution, all the route targets that are transmitted over the Inter-AS links need an ASBR local database to forward the customer traffic correctly.
D. The Inter-AS Option B design implements VPNv4 communication over the Inter-AS link, hence the requirement for a route-target association for each customer VPN connected across two or more ASs.
Answer: B
