NEW QUESTION: 2
A technician just completed a new external website and setup access rules in the firewall. After some testing, only users outside the internal network can reach the site. The website responds to a ping from the internal network and resolves the proper public address. Which of the following could the technician do to fix this issue while causing internal users to route to the website using an internal address?
A. Implement a split horizon DNS
B. Configure NAT on the firewall
C. Place the server in the DMZ
D. Adjust the proper internal ACL
Answer: A
Explanation:
Split horizon DNS (also known as Split Brain DNS) is a mechanism for DNS servers to supply different DNS query results depending on the source of the request. This can be done by hardware-based separation but is most commonly done in software.
In this question, we want external users to be able to access the website by using a public IP address. To do this, we would have an external facing DNS server hosting a DNS zone for the website domain. For the internal users, we would have an internal facing DNS server hosting a DNS zone for the website domain. The external DNS zone will resolve the website URL to an external public IP address. The internal DNS server will resolve the website URL to an internal private IP address.

NEW QUESTION: 3
Which four steps are involved to use Active Cache Dependency Injection in a WebLogic Java EE application?
A. Package tangosol-coherence-override.xml in modules classpath
B. Deploy Active Cache shared library
C. Package coherence-cache-config.xml in modules classpath
D. Declare dependency on the shared library
E. Declare all dependency injection entries
Answer: B,C,D,E
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Note:
* Example
If you have additional Coherence caches running on Coherence*Web, then you must merge the cache configuration information (typically defined in the coherence-cache-config.xmlfile) with the session configuration contained in the session-cache-config.xmlfile. The cache and session configuration must be consistent across WebLogic Server and Coherence cache servers.

NEW QUESTION: 4
Which statement is true regarding the UNION operator?
A. Null values are not ignored during duplicate checking.
B. By default, the output is not sorted.
C. The number of columns selected in all select statements need not be the same.
D. Names of all columns must be identical across all select statements.
Answer: A
Explanation:
For the UNION operator the nulls values are not ignored during duplicate checking.
Incorrect:
Not A: The UNION operator implicitly sorts the output.
Not D: Each SQL SELECT statement within the UNION query must have the same number of fields in the result sets with similar data types.
