The application is currently running on a single EC2 instance in a VPC. The application is a web application that uses a database. The application is currently running on a single EC2 instance in a VPC. The application is a web application that uses a database.

A. AWS SMS to migrate the application to AWS.

B. AWS Elastic Beanstalk to migrate the application to AWS.

C. VM Import / Export to migrate the application to AWS.

D. Docker Application Load Balancer to migrate the application to AWS.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Using ECS with Application Load Balancer would allow the multiple applications to be hosted within the same container, thereby reducing the number of instances required for deployments.
