Computer1 has password-protected sharing turned on. Computer2 has password-protected sharing turned off.

statement is true. Otherwise, select No.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

When password protected sharing is turned on, only people who have a user account and password on your computer can access shared files.

Box 1: Yes

Password protected sharing is turned off on Computer2 so User1 can access Share2 from Computer1.

Box 2: Yes

Password protected sharing is turned on on Computer1. User2 has an account on Computer1 so User2 can access Share1 from Computer2.

Box 3: Yes

The answer to this question depends on which version of Windows 10 is running on the computers. This isn't specified in the question so it's likely that the question will be updated in future.

Password protected sharing is turned on on Computer1. User3 does not have an account on Computer1 so User3 cannot access Share1 from Computer2. However, the Guest account is enabled which could provide access depending on which version of Windows 10 is running. If it is Windows 10 Home or Pro, then the answer to this question is Yes. The Guest account does provide access. However, in later versions of Windows 10 Enterprise and Windows 10 Education (from build 1709 onwards), the Guest account does not enable access to the shared folder.
